DEDICATION

The class of 1997 is proud to dedicate the yearbook to Mr. Jack Longo, a supportive teacher, energetic coach, loving husband and father. Mr. Longo encompasses the spirit of the class of 1997 and is worthy of this honor. .

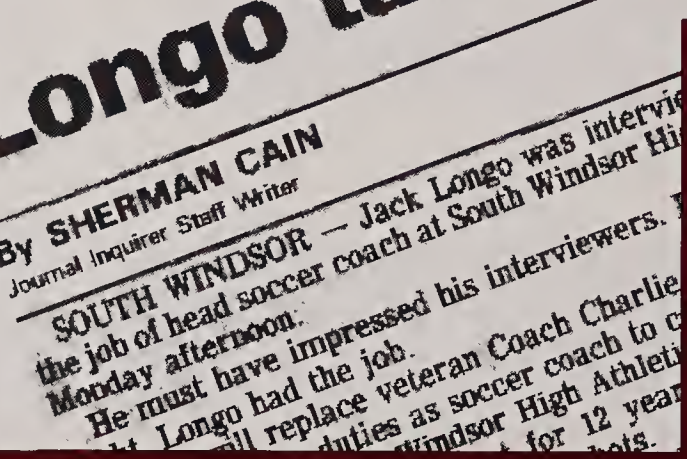

Mr. Longo graduated from South Windsor High School in 1969. He attended Southern Connecticut State University where he majored in Physical Education. After teaching at Orchard Hill and Ellsworth Elementary Schools, he went back to college and took science courses, which enabled him to teach science at the high school level. Mr. Longo returned to South Windsor and has been teaching at the high school for the past thirteen years.

Mr. Longo is well respected and liked because students see him as an understanding, concerned, and friendly teacher who makes learning interesting. "He is the type of guy that even if he hasn't been your teacher, he still makes the effort to know who you are and how you participate in school." said senior Julie Raimondo.

Mr. Longo is the coach of the boys' varsity soccer team and is involved with unified sports. As a coach, he strives to encourage determination in his soccer players while making their playing time enjoyable.

"He always was able to make practice fun for us," said four year soccer player Michael Neligon.

Many students first met Mr. Longo in their freshman Biology class and he has remained to many an influential example, not easily forgotten. Students often describe Mr. Longo as a "GGTK" (good guy to know). Meeting him in the hallway always results in a big smile and loud hello. Why our class admires Mr. Longo was best stated by Pam Salisbury, "He is dedicated to every student in the school."

STUDENT LIFE

After the classes, the homework and the other things that students are prone to, comes the time that is called Student Life.

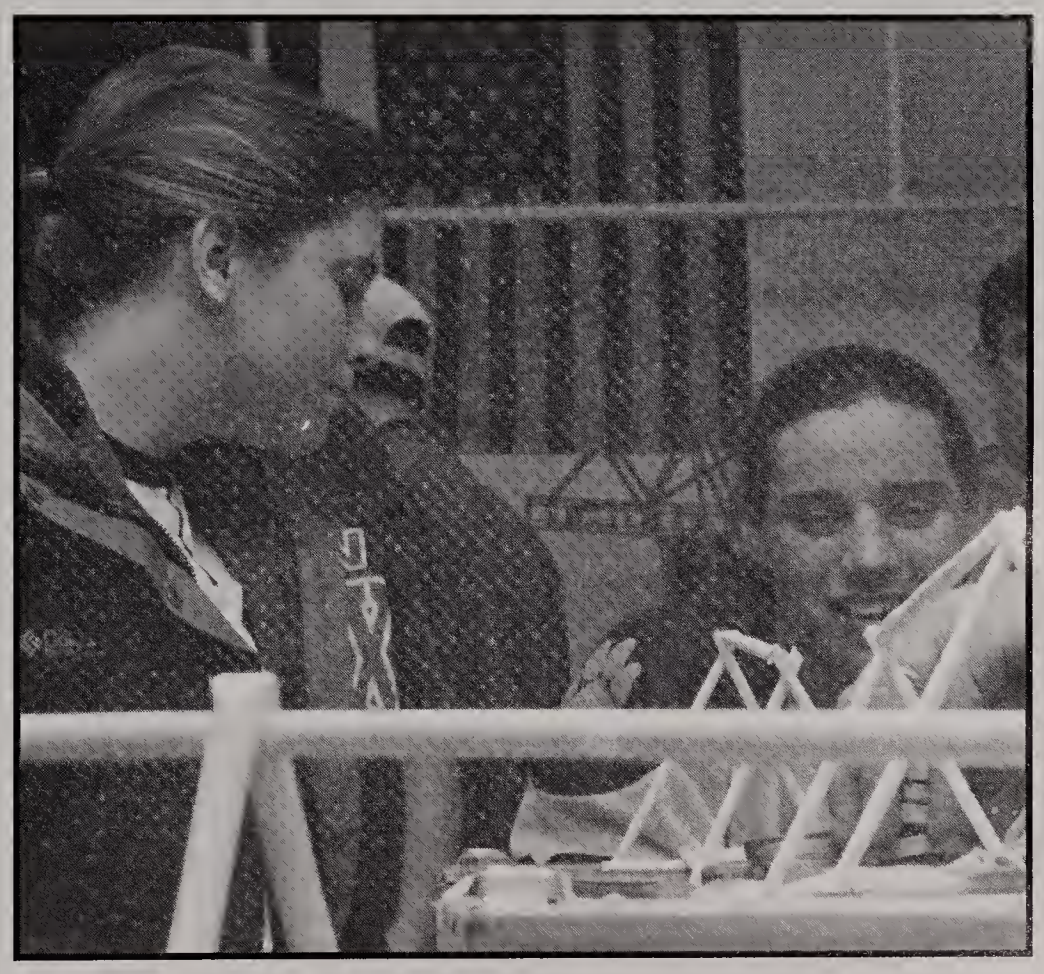

Every student has a part in this area of the school day, even if they don't know that they are doing it. Student life is what is, after everything else is done. Sometimes it is going to a job, attending a club meeting, or showing up for a concert. It is taking field trips to New York City with the journalism class or going to band camp or going to a music festival in Maryland.

Part of Student Life is just being yourself and taking part in those things that help make life more enjoyable.

Hosts & Visitors

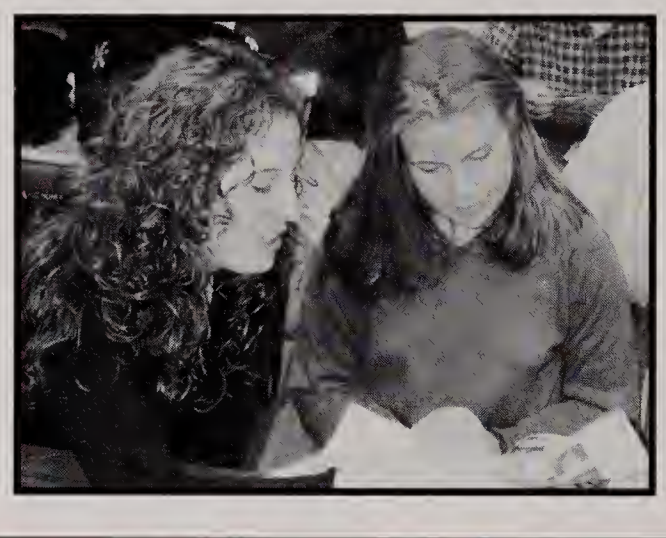

Meeting students from other schools & other lands

South Windsor students are lucky enough to have the opportunity to experience many types of exchange programs. There are programs for foreign language students to travel to Europe and in the past few years, students have traveled to Russia. Other groups, such as student government and Unity, participate in exchange programs with other area high schools.

The two high schools that we have been most involved with in the past few years are Manchester and Weaver. The Manchester exchange program was sponsored by the student government. SWHS students were paired up with same grade students from the opposite school and they shadowed them for a day to see how their school works in comparison to ours. They discussed the differences and similarities between the schools in a group meeting at the end of the day. "Through discussion we are coming up with new ideas to improve our school," said junior Danielle Derrig who participated in this program. Manchester student Megan Anderson, who shadowed Dannielle, was also able to see how our yearbook was being produced, and take back some ideas to contribute, as a member of the MHS yearbook staff.

Another great opportunity that SWHS students have is to travel for a three week stay to Russia. The Russians came to the U.S. for three weeks in October. They visited our school, stayed with and were hosted by SWHS students. In February, seven of our students went to Pern, Russia and were hosted by the Russian students.

Mr. Hotchkiss, the SWHS coordinator for the Russian exchange, calls this trip, "A tremendous experience for our kids and will help to support the growth of democracy in Russia."

Senior Kristine Lamm, an AFS exchange student, went to Chile in February to stay with a family there and attend school.

Last April, a group of SWHS students went to Spain. This was a wonderful and exciting experience. for those who went. The group left snow, sleet and freezing rain to arrive in a beautiful warm Spanish spring. The temperature in Madrid and Toledo averaged in the upper seventies during their entire stay. This trip was also an exchange program which students said "was the best part of the trip."

Art Club

Every activity period for the last few months, a group of talented students have gathered together to brainstorm art projects.

The club was formed in the beginning of the year by co-presidents Greg Zadrozny and Lin Hsu. Greg said that he had the goal in mind to "come up with ideas to better help the South Windsor High School community through art." Other members of the club include students Jeff Baldwin, David Baldwin, Karen Erickson, Brianne Brown, Crystal Burnham, and Ryan Hull. Mrs. Greco supervises the group and advises their projects.

The club is working on a calendar displaying a collaboration of the students' individual and group art work.

Homecoming '96 "Mardi Gras"

This year's "Mardi Gras" homecoming was one to never be forgotten. Students were seen wearing beads, masks, and sequins while dancing the night away. The spirit of the night was one of excitement, enjoyment, and a good time all around! Everyone enjoyed the night due to the great chaperones, music, and decorations.

The gymnasium was a faded memory of a place we would all wish to be, a scene of Bourbon Street in New Orleans. The Student Government did a great job despite a lack of support from the students for the decoration making. Instead of "Fat Tuesday", South Windsor High School had a "Phat Homecoming"!

Spirit Week

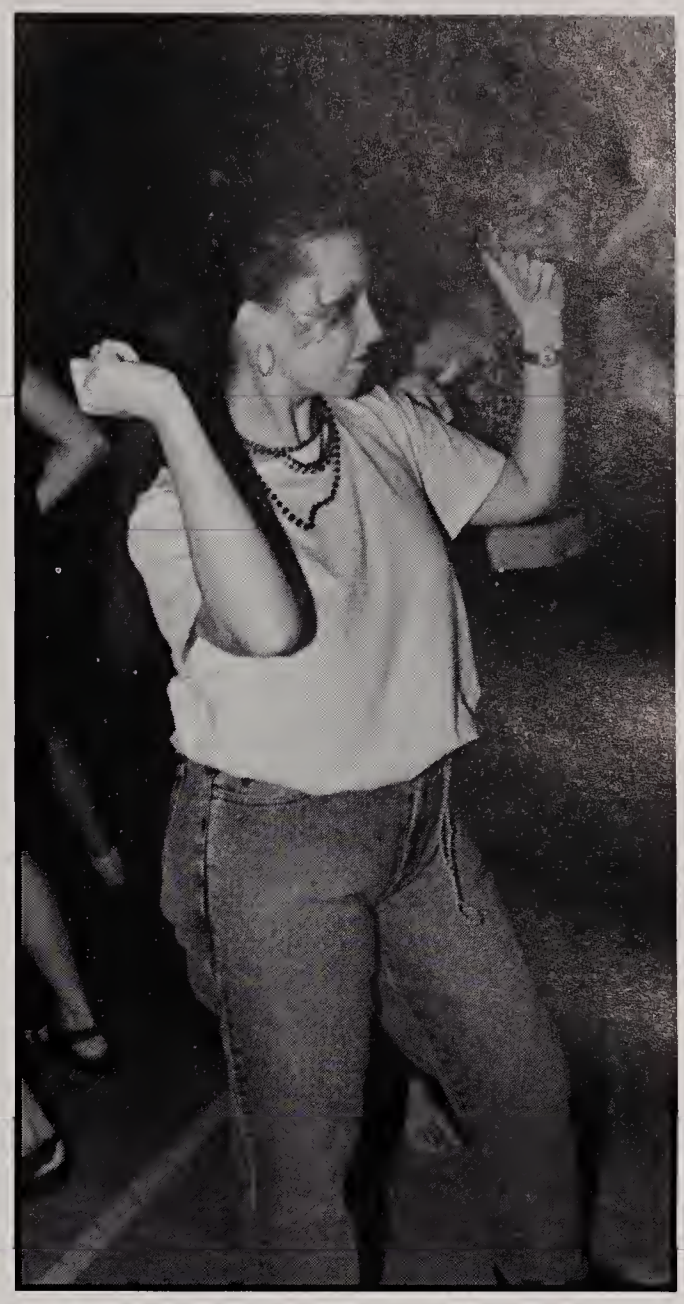

Spirit Week is the one event at SWHS that all classes look forward to. The week began with daily spirit dress- ups, such as pajama day, college, maroon and gold, and hippie day. The week concluded with a pep rally on Friday afternoon where all of the classes screamed and cheered the loudest they possibly could. The seniors definitely won the shouting match. "I thought that I won the shouting match," stated Jay Sylvia.
The seniors gathered in the cafeteria before the rally to get excited for the event. They sprayed each other with confetti and silly string. It was one of the best parts of the rally for the seniors, and it really brought everyone together.

Students getting involved

They jingled, jangled and walked. December 7 was the day of the Jingle Bell Walk for Arthritiis at the Buckland Hills Mall. All of the walkers were required to collect donations to help people sufering from arthitis. For each participant who raised a minimum of $10 recieved Jingle Bells, a fanny pack, and were eligible for drawing prizes given at the end of the for the twenty kilometer walk. The student government at SWHS raised $988 for the arthritis foundation, as well as a free D.J. for a school dance. The Dj was used for the "Snow Ball" the semi-formal in February.

"The money from the dance was used for a commercial against the use of drugs." said sophomore Mary Griffin. Our students not only raised money for charity, but won something that the whole school could enjoy.

Other students are choosing to get involved in the SWHS community through tutoring other students. Tutoring is a good way to help others as well as a possibility to make some money. Students choose to use their study halls as time to help others out with their academic struggles or help out with a class as a teacher's aide. Students can choose to do this on their own or through school programs such as SWAT or the National Honor Society. Tutoring can also be a job, and a very well paying one for students that do not have another job and are able to fit tutoring into their busy schedules.

This year's NHS induction ceremony was special time to honor those whose hard work for the past three years got them into the National Honor Society. The students met in the cafeteria, dressed in their robes, and proceded into the auditorium to be honored by the other students, parents, and teachers. Some students had the opportunity to share a story on what each aspect of NHS means to them; scholarship, service, leadership, and character.

UNITY is a club for any individuals who has real concerns about issues of diversity and wants to make a difference. The group sponsored a food drive around Thanksgiving to raise food for the homeless.

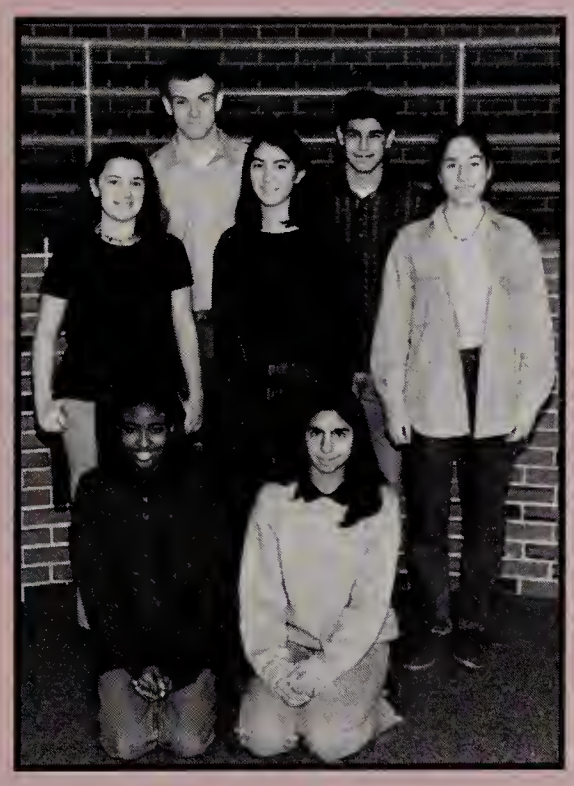

The Student Government plans events such as the Snow Ball, raises money for drug awareness programs and acts as the laison between the student body and the administration.

Student Government ...draws the most amount of students out of any other activity in the school. It seems as though students flock because they want to be a part in the decision making in the school. This year, student government participated in the Jingle Bell walk for arthritis , and left winning a free dance for raising the most money. "I'm glad I was able to do the best I could to help those with the disease," said Dave Marker. Student government is also in charge of pep rallies and other fund raising activities. "Getting things done for my school is reason enough for me," said Nick Grossi.

Each year the Literary magazine publishes In My Mind's Eye , a collection of student's writing, poetry, and artwork and photography.

Student works are collected throughout the year and final selections of material are made in early May.

The Lit Mag is special because it is totally put together by students and showcases their best work.

Drama

Putting It All Together

South Windsor High School always has a very successful and entertaining drama club. Each year, students have the opportunity to take part in the yearly musicals, comedies and dramas produced throughout the year. The first play presented this year was Neil Simon's and starred Mike Eastwood as a rich kid looking for a way to express his artistic side. It gave many students, including some first-time actors and actresses., a chance to portray a variety of zany characters.

The musical this year was Rogers and Hammerstein's Carousel. It starred three of the music department's most celebrated seniors, Kim Shaker, Eric Catania, and Jenn Greene, and also included many seniors who have put in four years of dedication to the musicals, such as Ashley Leavitt, Chrissy Gentile, and Kevin Staszowski. The musical also included many other seniors and underclassmen, with over 100 people involved in one way or another in the production, be it on stage, in the pit, or offstage doing tech. This year also marked the last musical for which the tech crew was run by Peter Chechile, the senior "guru" of drama tech. With Mr. Graner, Mr. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Cloutman and Mr. Carlson in charge, the musicals are always incredible experiences for both the students and the audience.

Outing Club

Takes hikes, Climbs walls, & allows Knuckle Draggers & Two Plankers to share the same snow

It's a fact, the SWHS Outing Club does offer something for just about everyone.

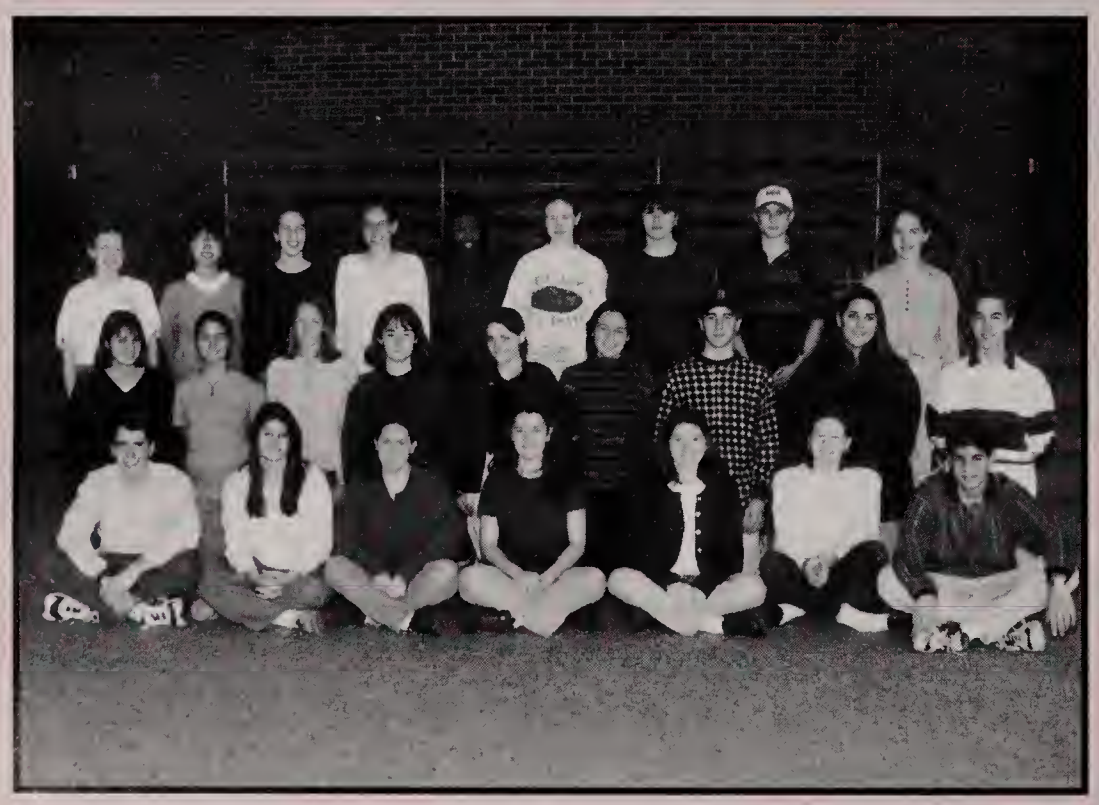

This year, the club did its traditional Canada ski trip and like the past two years, it rained on Saturday and was darn cold on Sunday. This year however they got to ski at Mt. Sutton.

More hiking, camping and climbing has been done this year than in the past with groups going to Mt. Washington, Mt. Chiccuora and doing parts of the AT in Massachusetts and Connecticut.

Instrumental Music

Camps, concerts, and competitions

The marching band got off to an early start this year by going to a band camp at the end of the summer. The camp prepared them for the Marching Judiciary competion in November. All of their hard work and long hours of practicing paid off and they won a bronze medal.

The concert band also got off on the right foot with the Winter Concert in December. In May the band went to Annapolis, Maryland to compete. The three day trip was a good learning experience and a lot of fun for everyone. The band also participated in the Memorial Day parade.

Breakfast & Cafeteria Study

Breakfast in the cafeteria has been a tradition at SWHS for a while. Lately, however, it has become more popular. "Bagels and hash browns are my favorites" says Sean Roberts. Bagels are so popular the cafeteria staff can hardly keep up. Senior Jamal Jones says, "I eat in the cafeteria on days we run out of Pop-tarts at my house."

The cafeteria has special privileges for Juniors and Seniors. For upperclassman, this is where study hall takes place, and the students are free to buy their breakfast or just a snack while they work.

Coffee House

On November 15, our cafeteria was transformed from a place of eating and working to an assembly of stages for this year's first coffee house. The performances began at 6 p.m. with the original song "I'm a Man" by Adam's Leaf and lasted until 10 p.m. Junior Caitrin McCullough was excited about the added support she felt this year, simply because "more people came." Senior Travis LaMothe, the drummer for another featured band called Rane, also felt encouraged by the large turnout. "It's getting better and better every year," said LaMothe. "More and more schools are becoming aware of it. It's cool that everyone gets the chance to play and express themselves." Two other bands, Cretinz, and Catch 40 Run , completed the night's performances.

Newspaper & Yearbook

Publications help to put the pieces together

It takes all types of students to make The Southwinds and Centurion a reality. Many students take the classes for a second or third time and become editors for the following year. Some students just like to write and take the course to better their journalistic goals.

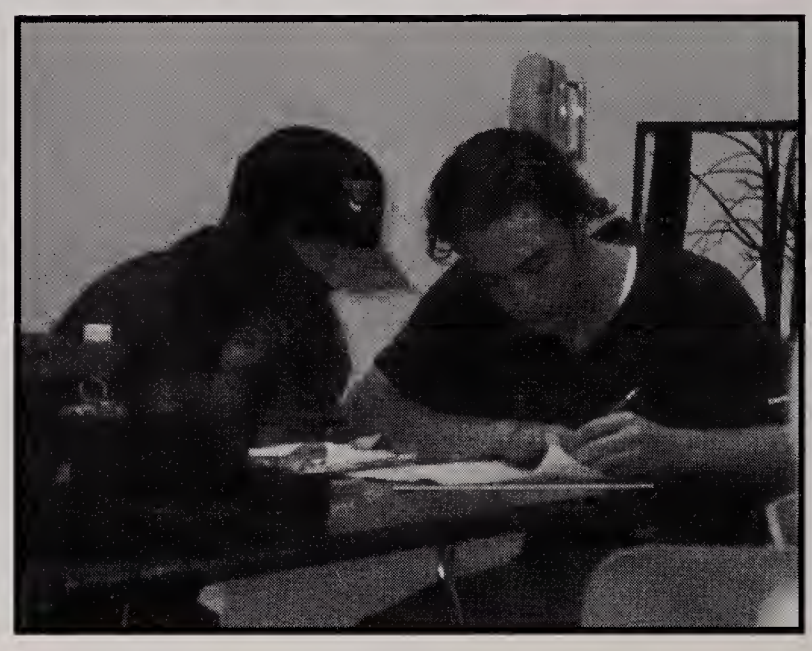

Yearbook staff members go to yearbook camp at Bryant college in July and the newspaper staff takes part in the Columbia Scholastic press Association Conference in march in New York city.

Skate or Die

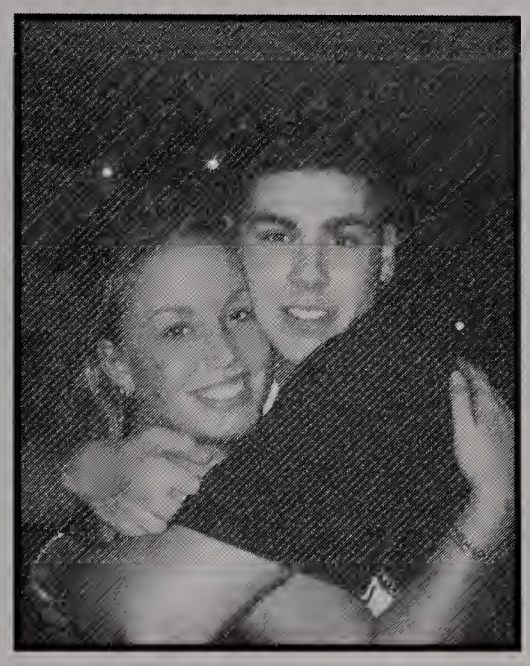

The skate population in South Windsor High School has recently increased. Could it be because of the style and music that go with it, or is it the thrill and excitement and risk of getting injured? Although it isn't structured like many other sports, it is very competitive for bragging rights. Freshman Eric Bennet says, "I can ollie (the act of jumping with your skateboard as to lift it off the ground) over a goat!"

Skating is a way of relieving stress due to school, parents, and other everyday problems. Senior Corey Holmes states "When life gets hard... I just grab my wood and go."

The old school sport turned new school has brought many new faces, where not all old schoolers are happy with the fashion conscious new schoolers. Senior Nikita Gottier comments "It used to be about what I could do with my Tony (skateboard) and not that I had the biggest Jnco's (pants) or the shiniest new chain."

But no matter who's in the scene or how they're acting, as well as snowboarding, in-line skating, and freestyle biking, they're all growing and are sure to stick around for awhile.

A PIECE OF THE HEART

Right: Jay Cyr and Lisa Zimmerman show that some people are meant to be together. Below: Senior Jay Howe gives affection to his sophomore girlfriend, Christina Burdzy, during lunchtime.

Years after your high school graduation, whose face will you remember?

Who will you be wondering about in five years? Will it be your old "high school sweetheart". What about the memories that you shared, the feelings you had for each other, and the adventures that you took together? Will they always be a piece of your heart?

"I will always remember Brian's sense of humor and his understanding ways. Most of all, I will remember the love I have for him, which hopefully, will guide me through future years," said junior Courtney Shimeck.

Some people choose to have a relationship and it can be the right thing for them, and others are happy just being "single" and spending time with their friends.

THE DREADED SAT's!

There is no way to get around it. "SAT's remain important," points out Mr. Myslinski. It's the test that is looked at by so many to decide one's life. But does it really? The mere sound of the name sends students into a panic. Is it really worth all of the stress and anxiety? How much do the SAT's actually matter in determining one's future? The Scholastic Aptitude Test is very signifigant to those students whose plans include attending college following high school.

The majority of colleges and universities take into consideration to a great extent the scores of their applicants on the SAT's. "They are the one piece of information," comments Mr. Myslinski, "that allows the colleges and universities to differentiate you from the other students in your state and country.

Trips & Vacations

During the summer and throught the school year, students go on trips and take vacations.

Some travel to exotic places like south America or Europe while others prefer to stay somewhat closeer to home.

Jess Sullivan said, "My best vacation was when I went to the beach with my friends and tanned by day and partied by night."

"My best vacation," said J.R. Solomson, was when I went to Canada in 1996."

Whether they travel to Spain with a Foreign Language group or to Cancoon during the April vacation, SWHS students are always on the move.

Jobs, Money & Work

Every teenager's greatest day is the one when they finally get their license. With a license comes added freedom, and responsibility, but also added bills. If you aren't lucky enough to have parents who pay for your insurance or even your own car, like about one quarter of the juniors and seniors at SWHS are, you will have to find a way to pay for your new expenses. The majority (68%) of juniors and seniors surveyed have a job to cover these important expenses. Having a job can be a burden, but a necessity, and it begins to prepare teenagers for later in life when they will have to pay for all of their expenses on their own.

Some students have to give up other extracurricular activities in order to have a job. Our high school offers lockout, which allows students to leave school early, and the Cooperative Work Experience program. The students can be seen working all around South Windsor, and neighboring towns, doing everything from serving food and selling clothes to pumping gas and working as cashiers. Some jobs are fun and a good way to meet people, but no doubt they are all hard work and often tiring.

The little bit of extra money that is left over after the parents are paid, gas is pumped into the car, and money is put in the bank goes to weekends -one of the few times we have in high school to relax and have fun. The top weekend expenses for South Windsor students include food, clothes, gas, trips, tickets, and cigarettes.

Vocal Ensemble & Choral Spectrum

Vocal music is for all those who like spending part of their day singing. Students can be in the Concert Chorus or Choral Spectrum. The concert chorus becomes a large group while Choral Spectrum is a smaller group that must audition for. Spectrum involves dancing and performing as singing. Students in both groups often have the opportunity to perform solos. Threee or four times a year these groups are sble to display their singing skills through concerts or "Cabaret Nights." These nights are both fun for the performers and entertaining for the audience.

As well as performing in the concerts the singers are also involved in an annual competition where their singing is rated and they get to see and hear how well other schools' groups perform.

Up in Smoke!

Even though smoking is not allowed at S.W.H.S., over 500 of its students smoke or have smoked cigarettes. That number makes up almost half of the school's population. One senior stated, "I honestly don't know why I started." Some students have reasons for their smoking like, "It relieves stress." and "It's cool".

For whatever the reason, students continue to smoke on and off school grounds. "I smoke in the bathrooms to smell up the hallways," stated a sophomore. A question on the minds of some students and faculty is, "Is it really possible to enforce a no smoking rule at SWHS?"

Up until 1989, students were able to smoke outside (if they were of age) without receiving an in-school suspension. Ever since, students have managed to find ways to continue to pacify their illegal habit.

"I don't care if anyone else drinks. It's just not my style."

ACADEMICS

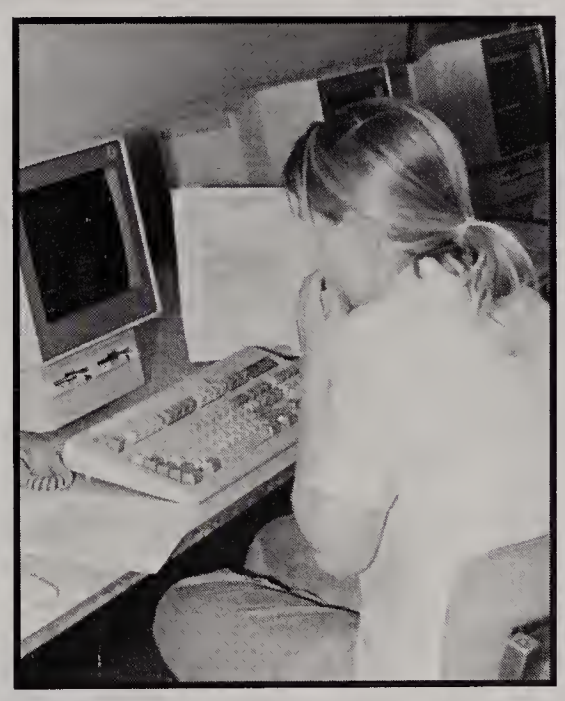

From Model United Nations freshmen year to the senior thesis, the students at SWHS start getting prepared for their future from the moment they step into the doors to the moment they recieve their diplomas. Although the educational part of high school is considered the least exciting, it is definitely the most crucial.

Often students try to maintain a balanced schedule while juggling the pressures of work, sports, fun, academics, and other extra-curricular activities. Finding enough time to include all of these things in a student's life is nearly impossible.

Throughout the years, the teaching staff has changed to meet the ever-changing needs of the students. We all have the same goals and dreams, graduating and beginning a future on our own. Whether it's going off to college, starting a job, or joining the military, the education we receive at SWHS will carry us through it all.

SPORTS

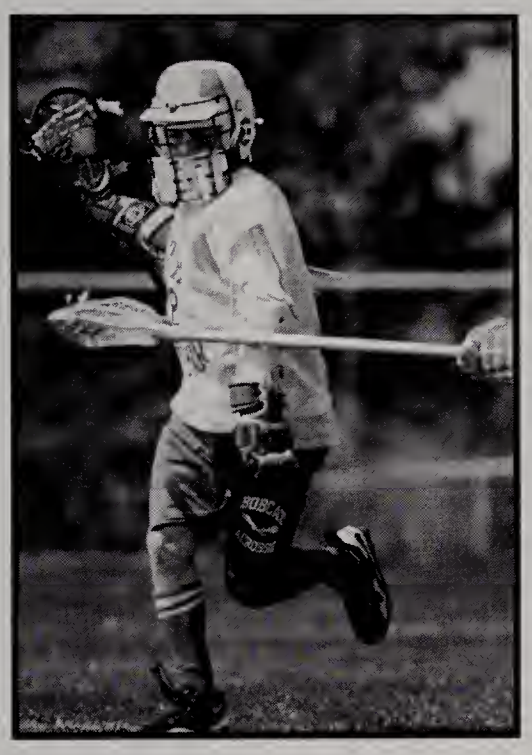

At SWHS, students are given the oppurtunity to play sports; from Football, to Gymnastics, to Lacrosse.

Our teams are very competative and give the players a chance to have fun while improving their athletic skills.

Teamwork is very important. Players work together to try and achieve their common goal of winning. Coaches work hard to provide an atmosphere where the players can have fun as well as learn new skills, make friends and compete on a high level.

Continuing in the tradition of good sports teams, the majority of this year's teams not only had successful seasons but also made the state tournament.

Boys' Cross Country

The Boys' Cross Country team's fall season resulted in a pleasing eight wins and three losses. Despite a number of injuries, the team prospered and placed second in the league, losing only to Manchester. The team displayed a lot of talent and unity.

"This year was fun, we really had some talented runners," stated senior Chris Smith.

Two vital runners suffered injuries towards the middle of the season. Chris Smith had an unfortunate accident and so did freshman talent Jesse Goodrow. "I thought that we did well, however the injuries did cost us in the end," said Coach Labreche. The team had many successful runners. Chris Smith, Casey Hannan, Steve Coakley, and Mike Vitner made all conference. Although Smith and Hannan will be graduating, the team should still have success in the years to come. Coach Labreche commented, "We have a lot of young kids, so the future looks good."

For a winning season

Field Hockey

"It was a really great way to end my high school career bacause everyone on the team played well and worked as a team," said senior all-state co-captain Laura Lee. It took three overtimes to decide a winner in the quarterfinal game and was intense for both the players and the crowd.

Even with the loss of both varsity and junior varsity coaches, this year's SWHS field hockey teams were a success. The varsity team did not make it past the quarterfinal game, but fought their hardest until the very end.

With a few new position changes, the Bobcats were uneasy in the beginning of the season. But as time went on, adjustments were made and varsity coach Dot Potyra took on the responsibility of training the team. The Bobocats were obviously able to put all of the new changes together as their victorious record of 13-4-1 represents.

The team will lose eight seniors to graduation next year, but ten juniors still remain and even though the loss will be great both on and off the field, the Bobcats have the confidence to continue their winning ways. Junior Beth Sherman commented, "After four years of playing with the seniors, this year our team really came together. It makes me sad that so many great players and friends are moving on."

From a freshman standpoint, Lisa Berlinski agreed. "We had a great season due to all of the upperclassmen. They helped us improve our playing and made the season enjoyable."

We'll see if next year the SWHS Field Hockey team can put it all together once again and continue their winning traditions.

The pieces were there, just couldn't quite get them to fit

The football team's season started with high hopes but ended in disappointment. With the speed and skill that the team had, winning only 2 games was a surprise to both players and fans. "We practiced hard and put it all on the line, but somehow it just wasn't enough," said senior Tim Hamby.

When asked for an outlook for next year, junior J.T. Martin said, "If we get the returning players to work in the off- season, we should be able to turn this ship around." In a sport that takes 110% of effort every moment, the Bobcats seem to have their fair share of shortcomings. Still, some players look towards a bright future. "We're not going to just fall over and play dead. We'll be back, bigger and better," said freshman John Pizzanello, a bright spot on this year's freshman squad.

Girls' Soccer

This team was made up of close friends and great leadership. In the past three years, the girls soccer program has experienced more success and recognition than any of the previous teams. The program has been brought to a new level; this upward movement started by this year's senior class, as well as the strong support of the talented underclassmen. In the past four years, the Lady 'Cats have won the CCC East conference three times, advanced to the semi-finals of the state tournament twice, and the quarterfinals once.

This year's team had great expectations for the season, and a state championship was definitely in reach. During the regular season the Bobcats only lost one regular season game to rival Manchester. However, they were able to avenge the loss at Manchester's home field with a 2-1 victory. The team battled between first and second place in the conference throughout most of the season. The Bobcats received a first round bye due to their outstanding record, and hosted Newtown in the second round of the state tournament. Here the Bobcats showed who the better team was. They won with an amazing 7-0 score.

The next game was against Glastonbury, whom they played earlier in the season to a 1-1 tie. Once again at the end of regulation the score was tied, but this time it was 2-2. They moved into two sudden death overtimes. With 2.3 minutes remaining Glas-tonbury scored. This ended the state championship dream. This season brought the Bobcats an unprecidented amount of success through their hardwork, determination, and teamwork. To all of the girl's soccer players, GTBAS!

For a kickin' success Boys' Soccer

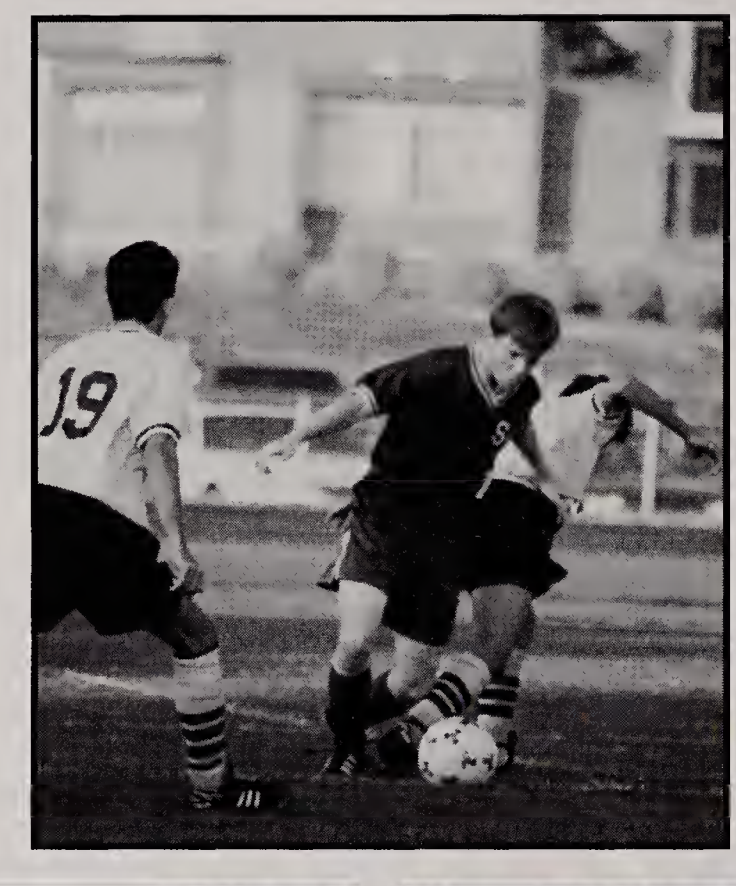

"It was a good season, everyone came together." said senior defenseman Keith Walker. The South Windsor Boys' Soccer team was predicted to have a rebuilding year as the majority of last year's starters had graduated. This season, the upperclassmen molded with the underclassmen to form a team that was much better than expected.

"Everybody was trying to achieve the same goal, there were no I's on the team." said senior Rigo Mockalis. No one was looking for personal glory on this year's team, everybody was working for the good of the team.

The highlight of the season was a come-from-behind win against a very good Rockville team. As junior Matt Connelly commented "It was a great game, everybody did their part."

The team returns a good number of starters for next year. A very successful Junior varsity team will have some good contributing players at the vasity level. This should make for another successful season for the Bobcat soccer team.

TO SERVE UP A WINNING SEASON VOLLEYBALL

The Fermi High School girls varsity vollball team stepped out onto the court with confidence. They should have been confident; they had been undefeated in five matches going in to thier match with South Windsor. However, the Bobcats were also undefeated in five matches, and they were ready to play.

The bobcats lost the first game in this best of five match 13 to 15. "It was a hard fought loss, but we kept our spirits high." said Aubrie Davis.

Cristi Carbone, Sharon Kyc, Lisa Zimmerman and Nicki Krajewski led South Windsor to win the next three games 15-13, 15-12, and 15-13.

The Fermi match was a great example of the Bobcat's season. Strong performances from many, come from behind victories, and a first place finish in the CCC East marked this season as one of the best ever for the Volleyball team.

Midway through the season, coach Rezendez said, "The team is playing better than I expected. I had expected a good team, but the girls have worked hard and are playing great, and they're having fun."

The Bobcats didn't let the pressure get to them and went on to the State tournament with visions of a state title.

In their first round, The Bobcat's defeated a tough Naugatuck team, 3 matches to 2 and then had to face a strong team from Mercy High School of Middletown. The lady Bobcats put up a good fight but could only take 2 of the 5 matches.

A great season came to an end, but you can be sure that the team will bounce back next year.

"If they were able to get points they would have won a lot of meets," says second year coach Kerry Murphy. During the season two girls qualified for the State Trials in individual events. Sophmore Janice Pare qualified in the 50yd free and the 100yd free. Junior Marci Berlinski swam the 100yd butterfly and the 200yd free. Marci qualified for the State Finals in both events and placed fifth at finals in the 100yd butterfly. South Windsor also had three relays that qualified for States.

The first relay, the 200yd medley relay, made up of Stacey Ruocco(back), Janice Pare(breast), Erin Hanrahan(fly), and Sara Brown (free). The 200yd freestyle relay consisted of Janice Pare, Megan Anderson, Sara Brown, and Marci Berlinski. The 400 freesyle relay had Stacey, Megan, Erin, and Marci.

The ladies made it to State Finals in all three relays. The girls had a really fun season and are hoping to get a team next year. "I am praying that an opportunity comes up. We've had really good luck the last two years, it would be sad for Stacey and I not to have a swimteam our Senior year," says Junior Marci Berlinski. Overall, the girls had a really good season and hope to have a team next year.

Putting it all together with Spirit
Cheerleading

Cheerleading has the longest running season at SWHS. Tryouts are in April and starts intensive practice in August. This August the team went to Amherst College to attend the Universal Cheerleading ASSOC camp. There they won a camp competition. The prize... a trip to Florida to attend the Outback Bowl in Tampa. In order to plan this trip the team had to raise about fourteen thousand dollars. With enormus support from friends, family, and town buisness, they were able to reach their goal.

The squad flew down to attend the pre-game show on New Year's Day. "Not only was it an awesome opportuinty, but it brought the team closer than ever." said Senior captains Juli Raimondo and Jen Denino. Overall, this year's squad has made major improvements and shown exterme dedication and determination.

WRESTLING

PINNING DOWN THE PIECES

There has been wrestling at SWHS for some time, we just didn't have an organized team. Participants in the past have had to practice with other school's teams.

This year was the first season of organized competition for SWHS wrestling. The team improved their reputation as the year went on. The returning wrestlers look forward to next season when the experience gained this year will be a helpful asset toward contributing to a victorious season.

When everyone on the team makes it to the State tournament, you know that they must be good. Although a small team, the girls worked hard and put together a winning season.

The nucleus of talent should allow for many years of success.

Boys' Basketball

"Upsetting East hartford at their place when we were decimated with injuries was the high point of the season." stated Tri-captain Jay Sylvia.

This is the way that the Bobcats struggled through the season. Overcoming injuries and losing two players turned out to be normal procedure for the 'cats. Even so, they managed to salvage most of the year and made it to the state tournament.

NFA(Norwich Free Academy) defeated the Bobcats in the first round. The team once again faced a larger and quicker opponent. Even so, the tenacious 'cats fought a long and hard battle, keeping the game within ten points throughout the contest. Mike Neligon thought, "We seemed to beat ourselves in that one. We lost the team mentality and were all playing for ourselves and forcing the plays."

The Bobcats had two sophomores starting and with strong Freshman and Junior Varsity teams, the future looks promising. Matt Metacarpa and Greg Staszowski made the Varsity through hard work their size. These two should anchor the center and one of the forward's position for the next two years. Juniors Tyler Woodman and Adam Ball plan to be back next year to add experience to the front line.

Coach Barcher had the Bobcats doing a lot of trapping and half court pressing which helped the smaller quicker 'cats play a defensive style game against their larger league opponents.

Girls' Basketball

R H

"Capturing the CCC East title was definetly a highlight of the season. It proved that all of our hardwork and dedication paid off." said senior co-captain Katie Murphy.

The Girls' Basketball team finished tied for first with Rockville this season with a record of 11-3, their second straight CCC East title. The team was lead by Brynn Wurmbrand, Katie Woods, Cristi Carbone, Pam Salisbury, and Katie Murphy- who are all seniors who will be greatly missed next year.

"Losing a tough second round matchup with second ranked Masuk of Monroe was a difficult way to end our career," said Cristi Carbone, who led the team in scoring and rebounding the last four years.

"I was really proud of my team this year," said Head Coach Paula Funk. "I was especially proud when we won the Ellington Tournament in December. It was the first time South Windsor had ever won the event."

Even though the girls played well, a dissapointment came with an unexpected loss to Hartford Public at home after our team had beaten them at Hartford. "We weren't together as a unit," said Coach Funk. "We have to be there together as one in order for us to win."

Although next years' team is young and inexperienced, expect them to be tough against their CCC East rivals. Key players that will determine next years' outcome are Kristen Brazee, Tracy Lewis, Barbara Muller, and Lisa Goncalves.

Ice Hockey
We are the Champions!

South Windsor had pushed the face off in front of their blue line through the nuetral zone and toward the other end. The players were fighting their way to the puck, pushing, diving at it, anything to try to get it away from their zone. Once they did, South Windsor knew that it was all over. The clock read 7.4 seconds, but the players were already beginning to celebrate. The players were rushing onto the ice. We were state champions. A story book ending for a dream team. They started the season with a dream and made it a reality.

This season had its share of ups and downs. The Bobcats started out on top, and then hit some problems as the season wore on. But the players worked together and fought their way through it. "It was a lot of hard work, but it paid off," recalls Senior John Cashman.

The Bobcats went on to finished the season by winning eighteen straight games.

A lot of their success can be placed to the team's work ethic and to their fans. Over 2000 of whom showed up at the Hartford Civic Center for the championship game with faces painted, pom-poms, growl-towels, signs, and a lot of spirit. "The fans were great- all the support the showed cheering for us and screaming their heads off, no matter what. That made a big difference."

That final 7.4 seconds seemed like 7 minutes. But that final 7.4 seconds summed up South Windsor's entire season when Kevin Corneau stuffed in an empty-net goal as the horn went off.

Sophomore Jerry Hayden summed it all up, "The final minute took an eternity, but when the final horn sounded all our adrenaline shot back up –because we were the CHAMPIONS!"

Indoor Track

This year's indoor track teams had mixed seasons. While the girls' team ended with a winning season, the boys were not as successful.

With a second place finish in the CCC East, the girls suffered a defeat to Manchester, last year's champions.

Maura Danahy led the team, once again in the 3200, as well as the mile in this competition. The sprint medley; made up of Beth Sherman, Shelley Dezelon, Danielle Tardif, and Shana Yudowitch, also made it to the CCC East meet. Caitlin Ramsey qualified for the high jump. All of those who qualified for this meet were chosen for All-CCC East honors. Beth Sherman felt that the season went well "because we all had a good time".

The boys' team finished with a record of 0 and 5. Although the record does not show it, by the end of the season the team had improved immensely, finishing sixth of twenty in a league meet.

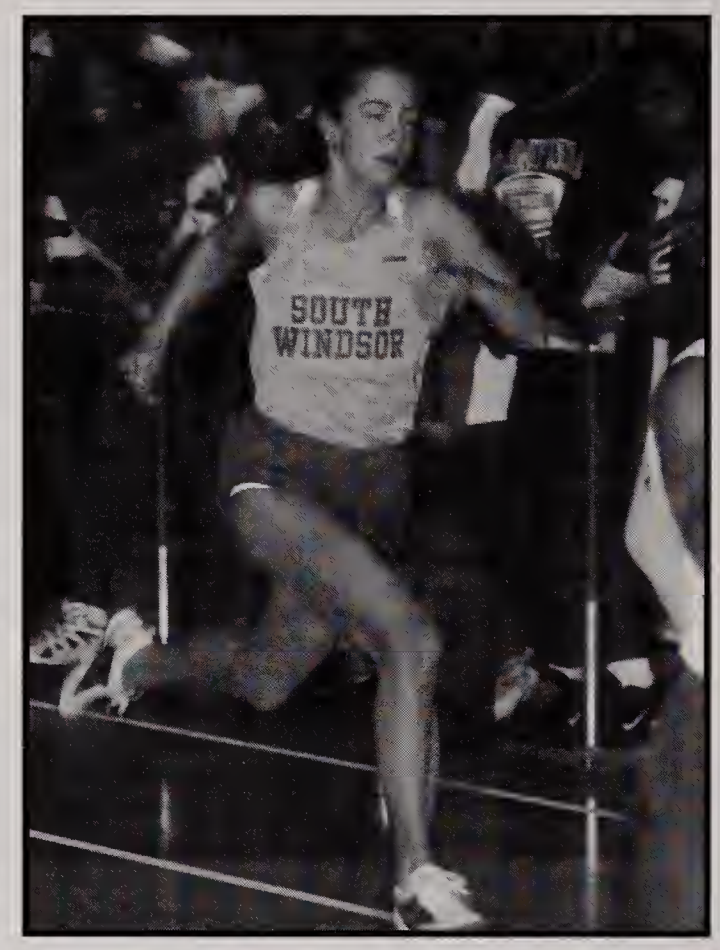

Four boys made the all-conference team; meet. Coach LaBreche said, "They were a young team, made up of 70% freshmen and sophomores. Within a year or two, they will be able to go for the league title."

Senior Casey Hannan, sophomores Chris Koehane and Mike Gerrity, made the all-conference team.

Co-captains of the team were Larry Barnett, Casey Hannan, and Matt Dipaulo.

Baseball

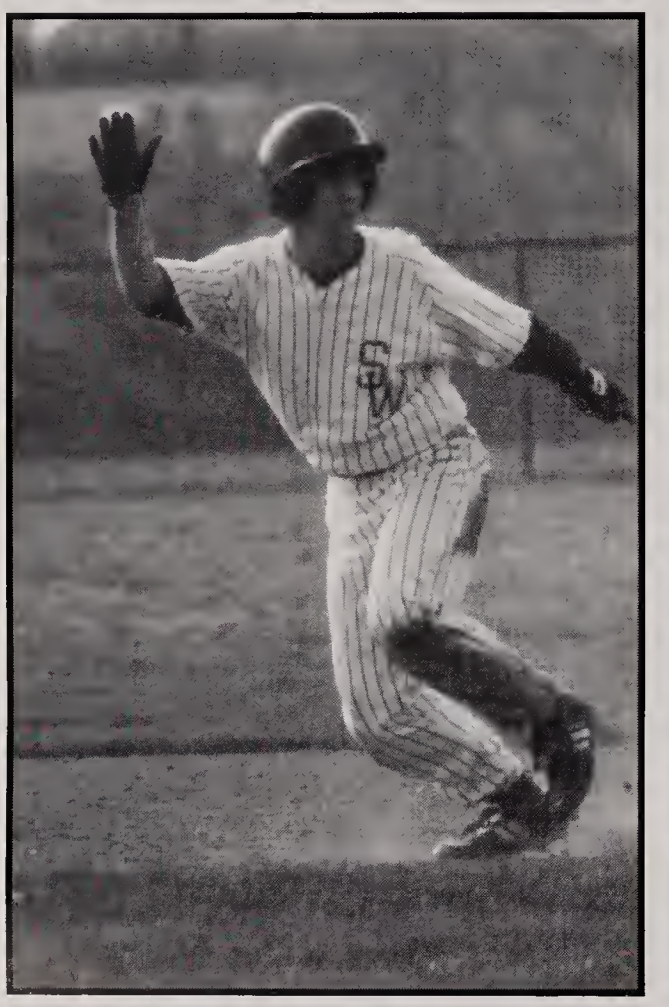

Putting It All Together

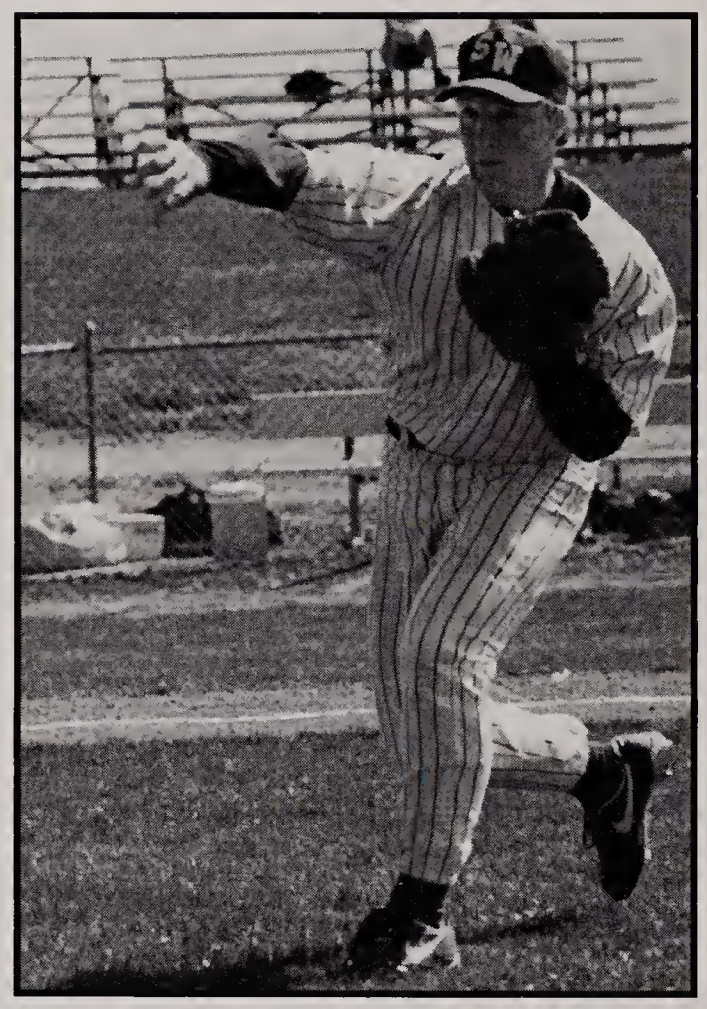

"I think it was a lot better than everybody expected. We lost a few key players at the beginning of the season so no one expected us to go anywhere." said sophomore sensation, Brett Burnham The Bobcats finished with a 14-8 record.

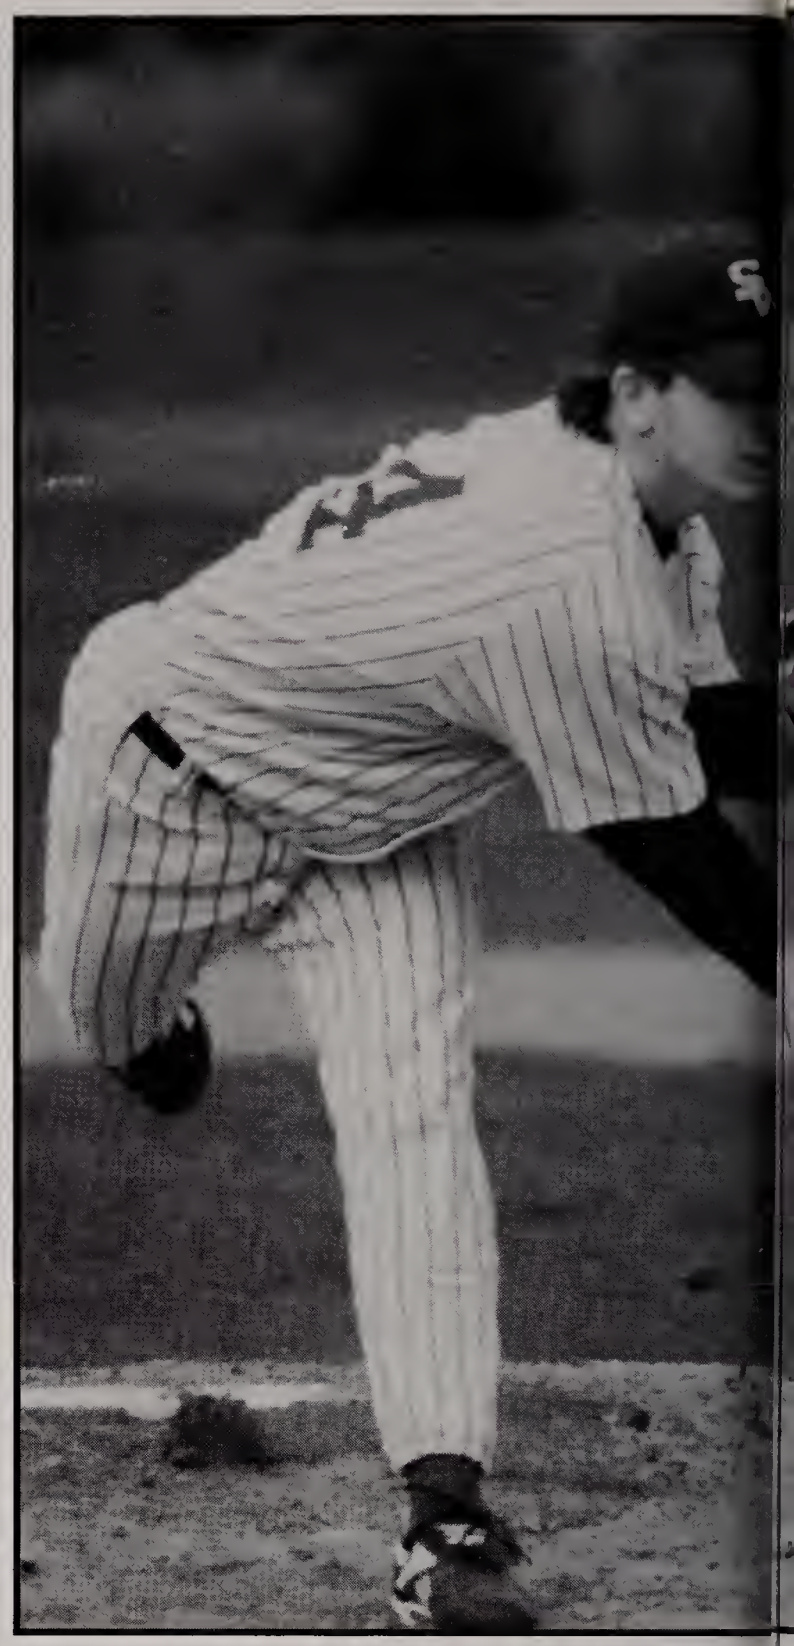

"I love running around like a madman in the outfield, I love taunting the pitcher when I'm on base," said senior Ben Plourd. The Bobcats are hoping they make it back to the state tournament again this year behind key players such players as Dan Costello, Brett Burnham, Ben Plourd, and also Brian Chewinski who was out for the tournoment last year with an injury.

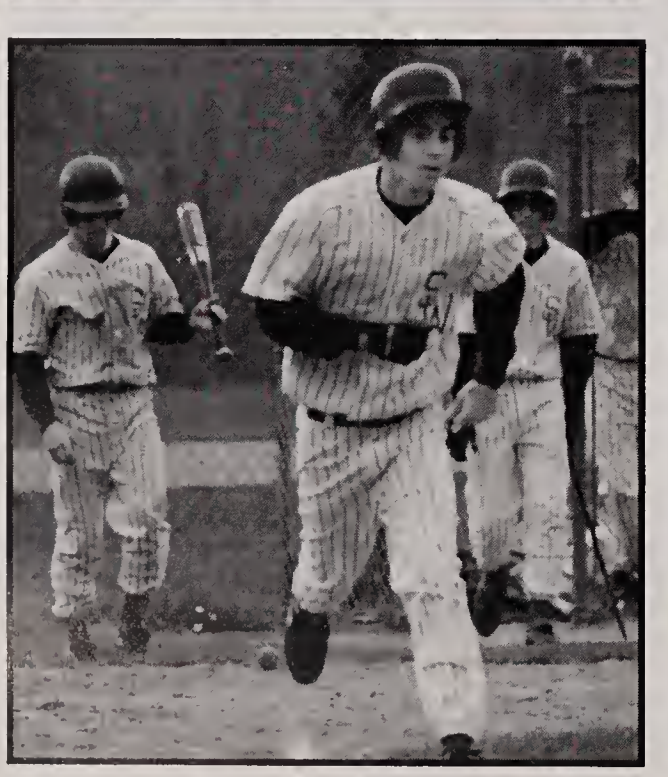

With dedication and hard work from the team members, this year's baseball wishes to look forward to a more succussful season.

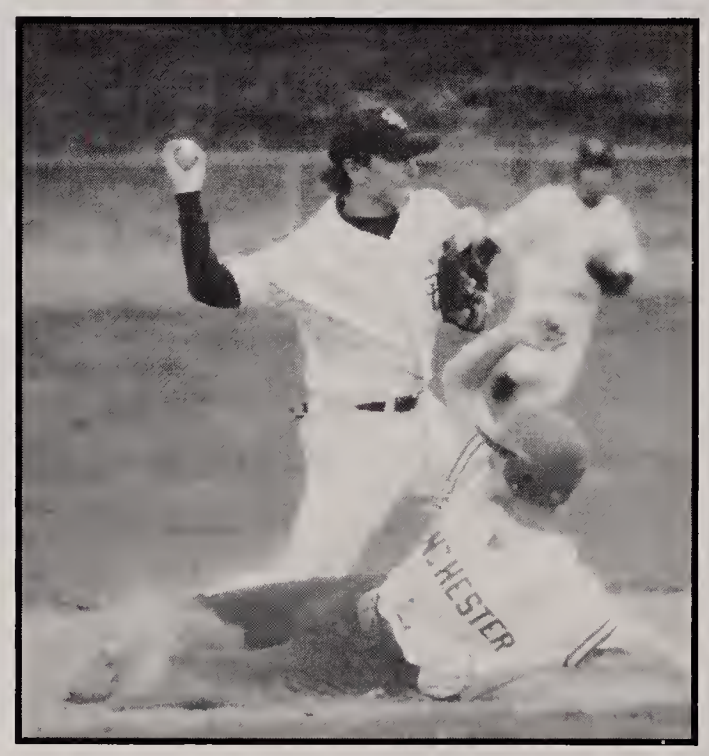

Dan Costello has a very positive outlook for this season and feels that they are guaranteed a state championship. We will see if this year's team will be able to put it all together.

Softball

After a disappointing season last year, the Bobcats are hoping to bounce back. Erica Hickey said, "Even with a young team, there are still hopes for a winning season."

Senior Holly Hajek sees the team as "very strong" and having a "sense of unity and through determination and hard work, and believes that the years to come will be successful for the Bobcats."

With the veteran players leading the way the Bobcats will guide the younger team members to a winning season.

LACROSSE

SWHS's Lacrosse teams look forward to very promising seasons. With the guys returning seven seniors and the girls led by eleven strong seniors, the Bobcats are ready to win. Last year's success shines on both teams this year. The guys were victorious until the championship game, losing to their rival, Somers.

Last year, the girls' hard work and dedication won them the conference title and brought them to the quarterfinals in the state tournament.

Entering this spring both teams are looking to take the league championships and the girls hope to beat their toughest competitor, Simsbury.

The amount of experience in the upperclassmen balanced with the younger talent will hopefully lead to another winning season for both the guys' and the girls' lacrosse teams.

This season for the girls' tennis team will prove to be eventful and winning. With many talented players, including captains Bethany Gness and Carrie Futtner, and many terrific underclassmen, this season will more then likely end in a good note.

"I think we will have a more successful season then last, because we didn't lose many seniors, and we have many talented underclassmen," said junior Erin Daley.

Carrie and Bethany plan on having many fundraisers, and pasta par ties. "This year we are go ing to dress up for games, have freshman initiation, and win the CCC East," commented co-captain Carrie Futtner.

Although losing a lot of seniors, the 1997 boys' tennis team look to improve this season with time and effort .

"We will have a winning season, because we have a couple freshman with potential, and many returning players. We have a tough confrence, but I think our hard work and determination will pay off," said sophomore Derek Connell.

This year will be a year for the boys' tennis team to regain the respect they deserve.

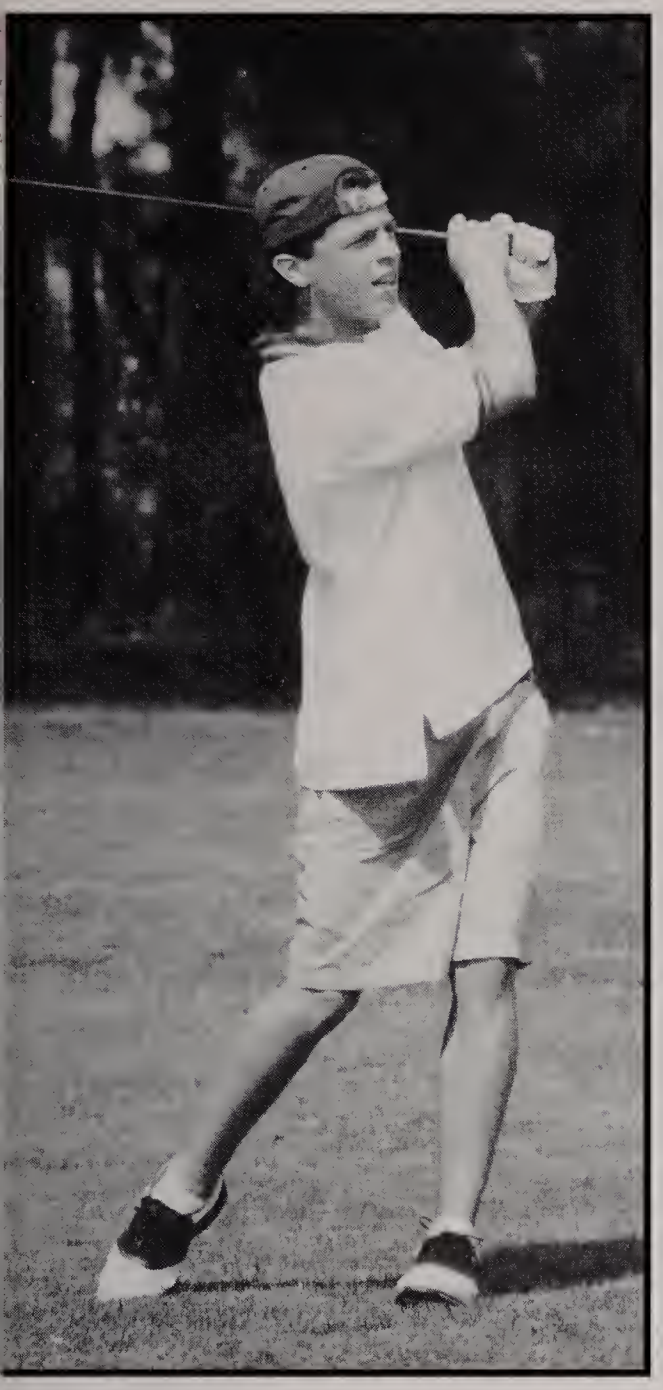

"We plan on trying to win more of our tough competitor matches and fighting for each individual game," stated junior Chris Denis.

Bottom: Will Muller putts for a birdie.

In the past, the golf team has been very successful. With the loss of Jon Round and Keith Corneau, they have a tough year to repeat.

Although they lost many top players, the team still has the potential to be great with seniors Keven Corneau and Will Muller.

This spring the guys plan on trying their best to have another terrific season coached by Mr. Carl Myslinski.

This year's Unified Sports team is full of spirit, and has a lot of potential for the future. "It gives the kids a chance like all the other kids in the school. They get to compete, feel apart of a team, and a part of the entire sports department," comments coach Mrs. Mortenson.

The Unified Sports team is like any other sports team in South Windsor High School. They are part of the CIAC, and have to follow all of the same rules and regulations.

FRESHMEN

It is a frightening experience, but everyone must go through it. Being pulled from a secure, but tolerable three year stay at TE and thrown into a completely new environment. We are again the lowest of the school, everyone looking down on us as being obnoxious, which some of us probably are. But then again, we are Freshmen.

For some, adjusting took longer, but most of us eventually did. A group of Freshmen were polled after a month of school. A few students said they had "adjusted pretty well", while most said that "they had no opinion", and a few others felt that "they would never like it at SWHS." However, after one semester, new friends have been made, activities have been organized, the work load has become bearable, and most Freshmen find that to their surprise, they are actually enjoying themselves.

As Freshmen, we still have three more years to go, but on our graduation day, we will look back on our Freshmen year as the beginning of some of the greatest years of our lives.

SOPHOMORES

What is the best thing about your Sophomore year? This question brought a puzzled expression to many Sophomore faces. "Not being a Freshman anymore" said by D. J. Nordmark.

Having the Sophomore title seems to be a major highlight of our year. Being Sophomores we don't feel so small in such a big school. We also got our class rings and that makes us feel like we are really a part of the school. However, one draw back to being a Sophomore is that the work is a lot harder. Dave Shilberg said his best moment this year was, "Getting an A on a math quiz because it doesn't happen very often".

As Sophomores we are expected to work a lot harder and be able to handle more homework. Tests and quizzes are harder and it takes more work to get an A. Many Sophomores participate in extra curicular activities and have a hard time fitting it all in. "Making the basketball team was really great." Said Jay Osborn.

Many Sophomores enjoy playing sports while others prefer music. Everyone enjoys spending time with friends. "Learning how to drive has been my best moment." Said Stephanie Cargo. This year a lot of us will get our drivers licenses, but because of the new law, most of us have to wait until we're 16 and 1/2 to get our licenses.

This year has many pieces to it and it is a challenge to put them all together. The biggest challenge is finding the time to do everything. Overall we are doing a good job and can say that our Sophomore year is a successful one.

JUNIORS

As Juniors we've gained some respect from student's, parents, and faculty, but along with this respect comes lots of hard work and responsibility. When you become a Junior the pressure of planning and working towards the future can become overwhelming, which reflects on how many Juniors spend their free time. We all participate in a variety of activities that seem to be for a common goal, that out of school release.

Many of us are driving, and most of us are working, so with some cash and transportation we can do just about anything, with our parents permission of course or maybe not. With our time here winding down we seem to be making the best of it. Although we are getting older we are not yet ready to move on. We have one year left to decide the legacy of the class of '98.

There is a logic at work - It's all done for you, don't worry. Enjoy it. Relax. To be taker by the hand and led, like being a child again, even without the innocence, a child it's like being a prize, an extra slice of childhood when you least expect it, as a prize for being good, or compensation for never having had one.

In the name of Allah, the most Merciful, the most kind. Say, O disbelievers! I do not worship what you worship; nor do you worship what I worship. I shall never worship what you worship. Neither will you worship what I worship. You have your own religion and I have mine. Abu Sa'id Khudri related that Rasulullah (may Allah's blessings and mercy be upon him) said: "If one of you sees something evil he should change it with his hand. If he cannot, he should speak out against it, and if he cannot do even that he should at least detest it in his heart, this being the weakest form of faith."

Wonderful Tonight

The Class of 1997 attended their junior prom at the elegant Oaks Banquet Hall in Agawam, Massachusettes. Many of the juniors had just as much fun getting to the prom as they did dancing, since a large number traveled in style. Limos were a popular mode of transportation. "It was a bonding experience for all those who attended. Everyone appeared to have a good time and should remember this experience forever." Commented Katie Greaves when asked about the prom. The music played at the prom ranged from the classic rock song, "Wonderful Tonight," to the cover song, "Fugee-la" by the Fugees. The classic black tuxedo and long, elegant dresses were the popular styles seen at the prom which truly expressed the sophistication of the Class of 1997. By the end of the evening, after a gourmet meal, the majority of those attending the prom were out on the dance floor. It appeared as though everyone finally fit in-together. Great music, food, and friends made The Class of 1997's junior prom, "Wonderful Tonight" a success that would not soon be forgotten.
